

Regarding K-LOVE, it's needed to help keep minds positive, light. They deliver healing messages and help perspectives to rise above the road rage, the depression, the insecurities, the fears we encounter in and out of our homes. They inspire me to be more involved and let me know what and where it's available to help others. We hear enough about the troubles and lusts of the world on other programs. K-LOVE lifts us up and out of the darkness that can overwhelm us.
